

PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARY GETS U. S. ATTENTION

Both Sides in Factional Struggle Speculate on Women Vote.

MAY UPSET MACHINE

Gubernatorial Contest is Bitter With Both Claiming Victory.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 16.—The Pennsylvania primary election got under way today with both sides in the Republican factional struggle for state control speculating as to how far the women would influence the result.

In the first state wide primary contest in which women have had the right to participate in Pennsylvania it was generally conceded that they possessed the power collectively to overturn the old Penrose machine and to place Gifford Pinchot, personal friend and ally of the late Theodore Roosevelt, in the governor's chair.

But the other line Republican leaders scouted the suggestion that enough women would rally around Pinchot to cause the defeat of Attorney General Alter, his opponent for the Republican nomination for Governor.

They admitted that if women flocked in large numbers to the polls to vote for Pinchot that there was the possibility of a landslide which they declared was all that could prevent Alter from winning.

But they asserted that outside of the society women who they accused of dabbling in politics and espousing Pinchot's candidacy as a fad that the women would generally vote as their men voted.

Pinchot and his campaign manager, declared on the other hand that they were sure of victory and that he would strike Philadelphia with a vote big enough to overwhelm the majority which they conceded that city would give Alter.

The Alter spokesmen said they did not anticipate a heavy vote. They predicted that no more than 60 to 75 per cent of the registered Republican voters in the cities and towns would turn out and that in the country districts the vote would be much lighter. They figured that Alter would receive a majority of from 55,000 to 100,000 in Philadelphia and of about 50,000 in Allegheny and that he and Pinchot would break about even in the rest of the state.

Whatever the result of the gubernatorial contest, the friends of U.
S. Senator George Wharton Pepper predicted that he would run far ahead of the vote received by Gov.
Alter or Pinchot and that he would be nominated by a majority which would swamp congressman William J. Burke, his opponent. Pepper would not only get the support of the Alter voters but would poll a big vote among the Pinchot followers, it was declared.

Burke has waged his fight to prevent Pepper from being returned to the seat formerly held by the late Senator Penrose on Pepper's opposition to the soldiers bonus and his vote to help prevent the unseating of Senator Newberry of Michigan.
Burke has also sought to arraign the labor vote against Pepper who he has charged with being a representative of "big business."

WORKERS BATTLING FOREST FIRES STRIKE

Cape May, N. J., May 15.—Fire fighters who have been battling with forest fires near Cape May for more than a week are on strike today after a large number having thrown down their fire fighting implements and departed with a disgruntled "let 'er burn."

They demand 75 cents an hour having been paid in the past $1.50 for the first three hours and 35 cents an hour thereafter.

The town of Steelmantown and several nearby villages were gaved from the flames during the night.
One fire east of Woodbine had been burning steadily for seventy hours, the smoke being so dense as to block passage of large numbers of motor cars along the main roads.

Two million dollars worth of timber, it is estimated, have been destroyed in Cape May, Atlantic and Cumberland counties during the past week.

SPECTACULAR FIRE RAGES IN NEW JERSEY

Bayonne, N. J., May 16.—Although brought under control after an all night battle, the spectacular blaze, believed to have been caused by a bolt of lightning striking a tank of gasoline, was still raging at the plant of the Tidewater Oil company here today. The loss, including ten huge tanks of gasoline, thousands of barrels of oil, a gigantic machine for mixing oil, high pressure stills, two plants, buildings and more than a mile of pipe lines is estimated at over $1,500,000.

NEW MOVEMENT TO ABOLISH ALL GAMBLING IN FUTURES STARTED

Supported By Organized Farmers, Capper Launches Attack Following Decision of Supreme Court Invalidating Act.

Washington, May 16.—Supported by the organized farmers of America a new movement was launched today by Senator Capper, Republican, chairman of the agricultural bloc, to abolish gambling in futures on the grain markets.

Capper told the International News Service today that the "farmers would not be robbed of millions," despite the decision of the Supreme Court invalidating the Capper, Tincher act. The Kansas senator declared he would have a new bill ready within a week or ten days which would "stand in the courts."

At the same time Senator Heflin, Democrat of Alabama, announced he would call up his resolution to investigate futures trading in grain and cotton on the New York cotton exchange, the Chicago board of trade and the New Orleans cotton exchange, "before the end of the current week."

The Alabama senator in commenting today on the drastic decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in declaring invalid the futures trading act passed by congress last year to prevent control of prices by speculation in grain declared:

"This decision of the Supreme Court emphasizes the need for an investigation of trading in futures.

My proposed investigation would be to determine proper legislation to safeguard the rights of producers of grain and cotton."

"It was a great disappointment to me," said Senator Capper, "when Chief Justice Taft knocked out section four of the futures trading act, thereby practically nullifying the law. It was a great disappointment too, to the other champions of the legislation. It means we have lost one round in the battle to curb the evil practices of the grain exchanges of the country. It does not mean, however, that the fight is over."

"We had supposed," Capper continued, "that by means of the taxing feature of the bill, we had found a method by which the evils of futures trading could be employed, we shall have to find some other means of accomplishing our ends."

NINE ARE INJURED IN BLAST AT KILN

East Liverpool, May 16.—Nine persons, including eight men and one woman employed as kiln drawers were injured and a pottery kiln was blown to pieces in a gas explosion at the McNeil-Cornes pottery company's plants in Wellsville, near here today.

James Spencer, 35, and Edward Dinnerstein 33, the most seriously injured, are in the East Liverpool hospital. Spencer sustained fractures of one leg and one arm. Dinnerstein was badly burned.

Bricks and cuts from flying bricks were sustained by Mrs. J. J.
Ramsey, William Buickie, C. J. Hall, Edward Eckler, Jos. Holliday, Chas.
Halland, Ralph Wheaton.

HAYNES CHARGES USE OF PROPAGANDA TUESDAY

Washington, May 16.—Replying to congressional critics, who are demanding Secretary of the Treasury Mellon remove him from office, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes today charged "mischievous and specious propaganda was being used against him."

Haynes said he was not discouraged and declared he would continue his aggressive administration of the prohibition law. He conferred with Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair today.

BOOTLEGGERS AIRPLANE TRANSPORTATION LINE LATEST IN BUSINESS

New York, May 16.—The armies of prohibition enforcement in the metropolitan area today threw out a dragnet for evidence which may lead them to the principals of a great bootleggers' airplane transportation company.

As the first tangible evidence that such a project is in actual operation, the authorities today have numerous exhibits as follows:

a—Wrecked airplane, near Croton-on-Hudson, which lies with its nose and wings crumpled against a hillside.

b—Fifty intact bottles of Scotch and Irish whiskey.

c—One hundred broken bottles surrounded by an odor whose genuineness is proving tantalizing to the hundreds of curious who travelled from nearby points to inspect the wreckage.

d—Montreal newspaper of Sunday's date found in the cockpit of the plane.
Little enough to work upon, this in the opinion of White Plains state police who raced 25 miles in a car hoping to find evidence of real value

REFUSAL OF U. S. TO PARTICIPATE BLASTS HOPES OF CONFERENCE

British Premier Feels Genoa Meeting Partial Failure and Conference at The Hague Useless as Result of America.

GENERAL ELECTION IN ENGLAND CERTAIN

Confidence of Lloyd George Shaken—Russia Asks 21 Hours Before Final Answer—British Still Hopeful of U. S. Participation.

London, May 16.—The refusal of the United States to take part in the meeting at The Hague for the appointment of a commission to study the Russian problem in detail and report a series of recommendations has turned Premier Lloyd George from his accustomed optimism to pessimism, according to advices received here today from Genoa.

The British premier is said to feel that the Genoa conference may be considered a partial failure and the proposed meeting at The Hague useless as a result of the decision of America to maintain her aloofness.

Downing street officials now freely admit that a general election early in the summer is probable as a result of the developments at Genoa. Premier Lloyd George labored for the conference in the confident hope that he would achieve economic and political results which would greatly strengthen his prestige at home. The premier is expected to call a political conference shortly after his return to get the views of his liberal colleagues as to the advisability of calling a general election at once so that the people can ratify or reject the Lloyd George policies.

Genoa, May 16.—After apparently accepting in principle the allied proposal for a meeting at The Hague on June 15 for appointment of a mixed commission to study the Russian problem in detail by taking testimony from a commission of Russian experts, George Tchitcherine, head of the Russian delegation today suddenly asked the political and commission of the international conference for 24 hours in which to make final reply.
The request was granted.

The Russians made a number of pretexts. They insisted that Germany be represented as The Hague and also asked that some other capital than The Hague be selected as the meeting place.

The American note rejecting the invitation of President Poincaré of the Genoa conference to participate in the meeting at The Hague was received today. The British empire delegation text of a message to Ambassador Child, declining the invitation to participate in the new European economic conference at The Hague.

"This government," the American communication said, "is unable to conclude that it can helpfully participate in the meeting at The Hague as this would appear to be the continuance under a different nomenclature of the Genoa conference and destined to encounter the same difficulties if the attitude disclosed in the Russian memorandum of May 11 remains unchanged."

The inescapable and ultimate question, the American note said, "would appear to be the restoration of productivity in Russia, the essential conditions of which are still to be secured and must in the nature of things be provided within Russia herself."

There will be two commissions at The Hague, so far as can be seen now, one representing the "big five" —England, Italy, Japan, France and Belgium (unless France and Belgium withdraw), and another commission representing the Moscow soviet government. It has been agreed that the withdrawal of one or more of the allied powers will not interfere with the work of the commission.

The Russians were regretful over the attitude of the United States. It is evident that the Russians were hopeful that they would be in a better position to dispose of concessions in return for credits if America were represented at The Hague.

"The last paragraph of the American note is exactly what we are aiming for," said the British official statement.

The U. S. state department made public last night at Washington the text of a message to Ambassador Child, declining the invitation to participate in the new European economic conference at The Hague.

communication said, "is unable to

ticipate in the meeting at The Hague

MERCHANT MARINE IS ADVOCATED BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

Vice President Speaks In Columbus Under C. of C.
Auspices.

Columbus, O., May 16.—That the rise or fall of the United States will be determined by the success or failure, marking the nation's commercial policy is the prediction voiced here by Vice President Coolidge during an address delivered under the auspices of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Vice President Coolidge advocated an adequate merchant marine and warmly lauded the administration of President Harding.

terms of the will of the late John H. Patterson, admitted to probate at noon today, property worth seven millions is distributed.

Control of the National Cash register company by Frederick B. Patterson, the president is insured by the terms of the will. The bulk of the estate goes to the two children, Frederick B. Patterson and Mrs.
Noble Brandon Judah. The former is made trustee of his sister's stock in the N. C. R.

His 50,000 shares of N. C. R. stock, bonds and real estate estimated to be worth $300,000 are distributed by the will.

Mr. Patterson directs that one-fourth of his children's income from stock of the company be used in promoting and supporting public institutions and undertakings in which he was personally interested during his lifetime.

APPROVE PURCHASE OF STEEL COMPANY

New York, May 16.—The boards of directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Lackawanna Steel corporation today approved the purchase of the assets and properties of the Lackawanna Steel company by Bethlehem.

A statement issued by Moses Taylor chairman of the board of directors of the Lackawanna Steel company declared: "The purchase price agreed to be paid by Bethlehem is an aggregate par amount of its preferred and class B common stock equal to the par amount of the stock of Lackawanna outstanding, amounting to $35,108,500, consisting of 40 percent in seven percent preferred and sixty percent in class B common of Bethlehem. Bethlehem is also to assume the debts and obligations of the Lackawanna company."

MAN HUNT STARTS FOR FIVE BANDITS

LEBANON, Mo., May 16.—Over a hundred national guardsmen, supported by 25 deputy sheriffs, from eleven Ozark towns, were beating the hill country at Bradshaw flats, ten miles from here today.

In the center of an ever narrowing circle they expect to either capture or kill five bandits who yesterday seized a $20,500 payroll of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad at Springfield, Mo.

Bloodhounds were leading the posses through the thickets, Machine guns, rifles and sawed off shotguns were the weapons depended upon to dislodge the desperadoes if they attempt a "last stand."

REMOVAL PLANS WILL COME UP ON TUESDAY

Cleveland, May 16.—Removal of headquarters of the Order of Railroad Conductors from Cedar Rapids, Ia., to Cleveland, in order that the organization may be in closer touch with the other members of the "big four" transportation brotherhoods, all of which have their general offices here, will again come up this afternoon in closed executive session of the order, at the hotel Winton.

Arguments for and against the proposed change were heard late yesterday but final action was deferred.

CHICAGO POLICE GET MURDERERS: CONFESS CRIME

Four Men In Jail, Two of Whom Said to Have Admitted Part

PROMISE SENSATION

Murphy and Shea Implicated Authorities Say—
To Ask Penalty.

Chicago, May 16.—Margaret Miller, 32, wife of the identified driver of the "death car" from which two policemen were shot and killed last week in Chicago's bomb and gun war was arrested today.

Questioning the woman, the police believe, will reveal the "inside" operation of the terrorists, gang which held forth in a west side saloon where her husband John Miller, was a bartender.

While Mrs. Miller was being held in custody, law enforcement officials went into conference to prepare their case against the alleged "higher ups." — "Big Tim" Murphy, "Frenchy" Mader and "Con" Shea.
Reported confessions of two of the three men under arrest as occupants of the "death car" from which Policemen Thomas Clark and Terrence Lyons were shot, were to be gone into.

Chicago, May 16.—Four men today are in the custody of the police and are said to have been positively identified as the slayers of Police Lieutenant Terrence Lyons and Policeman Thomas Clark.

Two of them are said to have confessed they were members of the quartette of "terrorists" which last Wednesday killed the two policemen, wounded another and hurled several bombs. John Miller, a bartender, is said to have been identified as the driver of the automobile in which the murderers rode. Another of the men under arrest, whose name is withheld is declared to have confessed the shooting of Clark and to have outlined the "terrorists" plot, explaining how the bombers and gunmen were employed and how they operated.

According to the police the saloon of "Jerry" Horan, one of the men indicted with "Big Tim" Murphy, Fred Mader and "Con" Shea, labor leaders accused of the murder of the policemen, was the rendezvous of the labor bombers. There they received, the police declare, their instructions, dynamite, guns and "wages."

Statements issued by Chief of Police Fitzmorris and Chief of Detectives Hughes declared that the confessions obtained connect Murphy, Mader and Shea with the operations of the bombers. These police officials together with Henry Barrett Chamberlain, head of the Chicago crime commission, declared today the evidence now in their hands is strong enough to warrant asking the death penalty for the accused union officials.

The four men who are in custody as occupants of the murder car have been held since the third day after the murder, but have been kept in outlying police stations where an almost constant grilling has been conducted.

Miller it is said, was taken from the county jail to a suburban bawling when traces of poison were found in his food. It is asserted the poison was placed in his food by persons who feared the testimony he might give to the authorities.

STATE PATROL IS URGED BY LINCOLN FOR OHIO ROADS

Columbus, May 16.—That a state patrol system be inaugurated to protect Ohio's highways is the suggestion made by Murray D. Lincoln, of Columbus, executive secretary, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, addressing delegates attending the Ohio State Automobile Association convention in session here, Secretary Lincoln, also urged that heavy trucking be restricted to heavily built highways.

Roasting violators of speed laws and persons who "hog" the road, Secretary of State Smith said that $250,000 has been saved to the state by cooperation of Auto clubs in the handling of license tags.

Other speakers were Prof. Fred Eyear, dean of the municipal university of Akron; Carmi A. Thompson, Cleveland, who with Secretary Smith number among the candidates for governor and State Highway Director Herrick.

ADMINISTRATION TO MAKE FEW PROPOSALS

Washington, May 16.—The Harding administration will shortly make some proposals on its own account dealing with the involved Russian situation, according to information obtained today in reliable quarters.
The nature of the administration move is a carefully guarded secret, but is held to account for the instant turn down given the allied invitation to participate in the June 15 meeting at The Hague.

DOLLAR DAY WILL BE HELD IN JUNE BY LOCAL STORES

A regular old time "Dollar Day" is on the program for Xenia merchants to be held in June.

The "Dollar Day" is instigated by the Chamber of Commerce, which organization hopes with the co-operation of merchants to make the celebration, the biggest single bargain day in a long history of similar sales. The "Dollar Day" scheme was started among Xenia merchants several years ago, and it has met with unvarying success ever since. It has been the custom to hold the special bargain day twice a year, in June and December. It is the June "Dollar Day," for which plans are now being made.

The following committee, headed by E. R. Richards, of Katz and Richards as chairman, constitutes the "Dollar Day" committee of the Chamber of Commerce: Mr. Richards, Earl Bloom, C. A. Weaver, H. M. Owens, Harry Sparks, E. D. Beatty, I. Friedman, Charles Adair, Jacob Colp and Adolph Moser. This committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to make "Dollar Day" plans and set a date for the big bargain day.

HOPE TO SUPPORT BAND CONCERTS

Band concerts for Xenia this summer are on the program of the Chamber of Commerce to be taken up at once.

Community band concerts find favor with merchants as one means of bringing many people of the city, and of stirring up the interest during the summer months.

Through the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce they have been successfully held during other summers and it is hoped by the organization this year that efforts will result in a series of concerts by the Chamber of Commerce band during the hot weeks.

The following committee on Band Concerts has been appointed by Miss Janice Owens, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce: Karl Bloom, chairman; E. R. Bryant, F. W. Dodds, R. A. Kelly, Judge J. Carl Marshall, L. S. Barnes, Jacob Colp, E. D. Beatty, Charles Adair, LeRoy Brower, H. P. Eavey, L. F. Cleverger, John Malavagos, H. L. Sayre, W. E. Boring, H. M. Owens, C. A. Weaver, Dr. A. C. Messenger, C. L. Babb, Edwin Buck, H. W. Cleaver, Walter Harner and Dr. Edward Kearn.

A county baseball league, composed of amateur players, has been organized in Greene County for the purpose of fostering a better spirit among the different communities as well as giving fans the opportunity of enjoying good athletics, according to W. B. Corry, of Cedarville, who is a moving spirit in the plan.

Four good teams have already signified their intention of playing in the league this summer, representing Clifton, Cedarville, Jamestown and Bowersville, and it is expected that other community teams will desire admittance before the schedule opens, May 27.

The loop is being formed along the same lines as the Clark County Community League, which has proven to be the source of creating a better athletic spirit in Clark County and in promoting clean sportsmanship. The league games will be played every Saturday afternoon throughout the summer, according to a regular schedule, and with the league championship will go the title of county champs.

Much enthusiasm has already been shown in the new loop and communities entered are looking forward to a successful season in the belief that the community league will fill a long felt want. The loop will be known as the Zig-Zag League.

CITY COMMISSION PLACES DAYLIGHT SAVING QUESTION IN COMMITTEE

Dr. A. D. DeHaven and Harry Fisher, were appointed on a committee to investigate and examine the petitions filed last Friday asking for the repeal of the daylight saving ordinance, at a special meeting of the commission Monday afternoon.

The committee was appointed according to the regular form of procedure in the matter of handling referendum petitions and has been asked to report on the validity of the petitions at the next regular meeting of the commission, which will be held May 25.

Because Commissioner DeHaven is known to have voted in favor of the daylight saving ordinance and Commissioner Fisher against, the measure, the committee appointed was named, it is believed, in order to insure both sides representation.

It will be the duty of the committee to pass upon the validity, eligibility and legality of the names appearing on the petition, relating to whether the petitioners are properly signed, by bona fide citizens. If the report of the committee should indicate that improper or illegal methods have been pursued in getting names on the petitions the petitions will not stand and can be thrown out by action of the commission. If the report indicates that there is nothing irregular in the signing of the petitions, they will stand and will be recognized as an appeal for a vote on the question and will serve as an injunction against the ordinance taking effect.

CHESTNUT STREET TO BE PAVED; CITY SELLS WATER PLANT

Chestnut street will be paved this year.

This was the decision reached by the city commission at its special meeting held Monday afternoon at four o'clock, in order to render a final decision on petitions presented by Chestnut street property holders, asking that the street be paved.

Chestnut street was not advertised among other streets, advertised for bids, recently, and that work will have to be advertised and the contract let separately, it is said. The advertisement for bids will be run at once, however, so that the contract can be let and the work done this year, along with the rest of the street paving program.

When the original street paving program was made out Chestnut Street was among the streets included to be paved, but when commissioners decided that all of the streets mapped out could not be paved this year, that street was among those dropped from the list. Later Chestnut Street property owners petitioned the commission for paving.

The street will be paved from High Street south, to the end of the street, representing about 2000 feet, it is said. The section north from High Street will not be paved at this time. The material will not be selected until the bids are in.

The water company farm, representing the site of the old Springfield pike water station, was sold to Dr. D. E. Spahr high bidder, at the meeting of the commission Monday afternoon. The bids were received last week and Dr. Spahr's bid was $3,510, just $10 higher than that submitted by Andrew Haninger. Dr. Spahr will start a silvex farm on the property and will begin the preparatory work immediately.

WHAT ARE THE ISSUES IN THE 1922 CAMPAIGN?

In this congressional campaign two great political parties are contending for the control of the legislative branch of our government. The issue before the people is a clear cut choice between continuation in power of the Republican administration and a reversion to the Democratic party and its policies. There is no other alternative. Senator Lodge in a recent address before the Massachusetts legislature accurately described the situation thus:

"The choice which lies before the voters is not between the Republican party and some ideal organization which never makes a mistake and which pleases everybody, an organization which has never yet existed and never will exist. The choice is much simpler than that—very different—it is a choice between the Republican party and the Democratic party."

Although the contest is between these two great political parties and will be waged largely by the machinery of these two parties, yet fundamentally the issue is an economic one. Political bombast and criminations will play but little part in determining the choice of the people. Men and women are now engaged in sober consideration of the problems of readjustment. These problems are quite as important to the future welfare of the nation and each individual of the nation as were the war problems, but they must be decided without the excitement and stimulus of war times. They call for calm consideration and sound judgment.

The great majority of the American electorate are substantial, thinking people. By the November elections they will have experienced over eighteen months of Republican administration. They will have the record made up and before them. They will ask themselves whether conditions during those eighteen months have not changed materially for the better; whether the nation's business and all business—agriculture, industry and commerce—are not on a more substantial basis, in a more prosperous condition, and with a more reassuring outlook because of the eighteen months of the Republican administration. They will ask themselves if the sum and total of eighteen months of Republican administration of the government has not been for the weal and progress of the nation and its citizens. Petty issues, personalities and isms, no matter how cleverly presented or violently proclaimed, will not swerve the American voters from a decision based upon actual conditions and the irrefutable record of things accomplished.

SAME OLD BILLINGSGATE.

Whenever a protective tariff bill is under consideration foes of protection exhaust their ingenuity, not in formulating arguments against protection, but in inventing epithets to be applied to the measure. Such terms as "infamous," "damnable," "outrageous," "shocking" and "immoral" are always freely used. Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, says the pending tariff bill is a "monstrosity without precedent." Any tariff law which favors domestic as against foreign production is always a "monstrosity" to a free trader, and just such violent language as Senator Walsh employs has been used in characterizing all the protective tariff measures under which this country became the most prosperous nation in the world. The Republican party has been wise enough to ignore such unreasonable assaults upon the American tariff policy, and the United States has been made great industrially and financially in spite of the opposition of free trade politicians opposed to every fiscal measure based upon the doctrine of "America First."

LESS CORN BEING EATEN.

Maize is steadily losing favor as a human food in the United States, according to the president of the American Corn Millers' Federation. This recalls a war incident, it being proposed to send a large quantity of corn to famine victims in the Old World. American relief workers over there sent word that it would be unwise to ship it because, notwithstanding their extremity, Europeans would not eat it.

In the South grits and corn-bread are to be found on the table of many a home at nearly every meal. Indeed, it has been charged that pellagra is caused by eating corn to the exclusion of other things requisite to a well-balanced ration. If this is true, few persons in the North are in danger of contracting that disease. Corn flakes is about the only form in which corn is eaten today in a majority of American homes.

It would be to the advantage of the people to use more cornmeal as food. Maize is the foundation of America's agricultural wealth, but most of it goes to feed hogs and cattle. So slack was the demand a few months ago that western farmers used corn for fuel. Corn is perhaps the cheapest human food grown. A greater use of it by human beings would benefit the farmer.

PEANUTS FOR OLD AGE.

Mrs. F. F. Huberty, of Sandusky, Ohio, who is 79 years old, eats peanuts for breakfast and urges other aged people to do the same. She says that she took to this diet 10 years ago, because she came to the conclusion that the usual morning diet was too heavy. She eats mostly cereals for the other two meals.

That isn't the whole story. Every day, winter and summer, Mrs. Huberty jumps out of bed at daylight and indulges in 15 or 20 minutes of vigorous physical exercise. Then, after her peanut breakfast, she goes for a walk of five or ten miles. As a result of this regime, she is said to be "as hale and hearty, as spirited and competent mentally, as the average woman in her thirties and forties."

This may well be. It is hardly possible to read the account without a feeling of profound respect and admiration for the young-old Mrs. Huberty. At the same time, anyone who has read as many old-age stories as the average editor must confess a doubt as to the marvelous efficacy of peanuts as a long-life promoter. Similar claims have been made for almost everything freakish in the human diet, from butter milk to whiskey and tobacco.

Some doubt may be expressed, too, regarding the miracle-working power of the vigorous morning exercise referred to. It may work all right for Mrs. Huberty, and it might kill another person of her age, or of half her age.

Old age seems to be largely a matter of native vigor or luck. Diet is unquestionably important, and exercise is important, but nobody has yet discovered a patent prescription that will do for everybody.

HOLDING UP THE GRAND MARCH.

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

A large number of Xenians will go to Dayton tomorrow for the purpose of attending Ringling Brothers circus. The D. & X. division passes right by the fair ground where the performance takes place.

The destruction of the trees about the court house, which has been going on for a day or two past, came to a sudden stop this morning by the peremptory orders of the Court of Common Pleas. The action of the contractors to dig away with the trees on Green and Main Streets to make way for the cement sidewalks brought forth a storm of protest.

Xenia should feel highly honored in the election of Mrs. Geo. Moore as president of the Women's Missionary Convention at Allegheny next year.

Arthur Kany is representing Xenia High School at the interurban oratorical contest at Bellefontaine today. Thirty Xenia pupils and teachers were in attendance at the contest.

we have no desire to overlook anything.

Let us, therefore, go where these things are and live upon them.

Look over everything. You never know when some fine discovery will be made. But overlook that which does not offer you something that will make you better and happier.

SEEK TO BE MARRIED

New York, May 16.—Luman Beebe and Miss Ruth Hayden, accused of stealing a bag containing $100,000 worth of jewels belonging to Mrs. Mitchell Harrison, wife of a millionaire Philadelphia sugar refiner, continued in the Jefferson market prison their efforts at obtaining permission to be married. It had not been decided whether this will be permitted up to this noon but the odds were against it.

DID HIM MORE GOOD

Many men and women suffer from backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints, sore muscles and other results of kidney trouble because they neglected the first warning symptoms. Foley Kidney Pills aid the kidneys to throw out poisonous waste matter that causes pain and misery. Stephen Lewis, Elbridge, Ky., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I had kidney trouble ten years. I don't have any pain like I had before I took them." Sayre & Hemphill.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Led Her To Try It

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 562 Symonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

IMAGINARY ILLS.

I often weep for Pink McGill, who lives next door but two; he thinks he is extremely ill, that shortly he'll be through, and sleeping idly on the hill, beneath the sod and dew. He talks for hours about his aches, in earisome despair; and yet I think his pains are fakes, a pipe dream and a snare, and he could whip his weight in snakes and never sweat a hair. If he would cease to grieve and whine about imagined pains, and say, "Today I'm feeling fine, from bootheels up to brains," his face with ruddy health would shine, brisk blood would warm his veins. Old Pink McGill would be a peach if he'd forget his ill's, and cease to murmur and to reach for Dr. Fantod's pills, and fire the druggist and the leech who fill him up with squills. For he's a man of many gifts, well versed in ancient lore; but as he is he merely lifts a bottle from the floor. Oh, he could tell us splendid tales of lonely ships and seas, of pawing steeds and armored males whose banners rode the breeze, but as he is he only wails of spasms in his knees. He shows a most indecent haste when there's new dope to try; and he is taking pills that taste like hens' nests in July; and so a good man goes to waste—and this is why I cry.

SEASON AT XENIA COUNTRY CLUB WILL OPEN ON THURSDAY

The Country Club season in Xenia will get into full swing Thursday with the opening of the golf course and plans are now being laid for entertainment features for the members who are expected to crowd the grounds Thursday afternoon and evening.

Two golf tournaments, one for women and the other, for men will hold the center of interest in the afternoon. The contests will be in the nature of handicap affairs and prizes will be awarded to the low score holders. The evening will be taken up with a dinner dance which will usher in the social season at the club. The committee in charge of the affair announced Tuesday that dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

CADDIES ARE NEEDED

With the anticipated large number of golf players, Thursday afternoon, officials of the club declared, Tuesday, that there will be a great demand for boys to caddy and notice has been given to boys who wish jobs to report at the club at noon Thursday.

With many improvements either completed or under way, the appearance of the club now is in pleasing contrast to the initial start a year ago and has called forth comment from members who have visited the course this week. The grass, which last year was conspicuous by its absence on many of the fairways has covered these same stretches of land to the delight of the golfers who last summer were forced to play without the aid of turf in many cases.

The greens are in excellent shape. The grass has responded to the soaking rains of the last few weeks and the careful attention given them has shown results.

Mowers have been busy for the past week cutting grass on fairways and greens for the opening day Thursday. Tees are being put in shape; sand boxes freshly painted with the hole number and yardage carefully lettered on the side will be placed around the course before the opening. Andrew Hanniger has wielded the paint brush on these decorations and has given the screens of the club house a coat of black.

Between fifty and sixty men responded to the call for volunteers to pick up stones on the fairways Monday and armed with sacks and baskets, these workers removed most of the larger boulders from the course. This was necessary in order that the grass could be mowed satisfactorily.

The opening day Thursday is expected to find the center of outdoor activities of the city for that afternoon and a record crowd is anticipated for the occasion. Members of the social committee announce that reservations for dinner must be made not later than Wednesday evening. The committee is composed of Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mrs. J. Kenneth Williamson, Mrs. Charles L. Darlington, James D. Adair and D. W. Cherry.

FRANCE NOT PREPARING TO EXTEND OCCUPATION

London, May 16.—Austen Chamberlain, government spokesman, denied in the house of commons that France is preparing to extend military occupation of Germany. Indirect threats had been made by France to take over additional German territory unless the Germans accepted the new demands of the inter allied reparations commission by May 31.

Styles BY LENORE

Lanvin's conception of a chic outfit that will be welcomed by smart young American women as a correct costume for many various occasions, is a simple frock of gray crepe Maroccan, with a short, graceful boxlike coat that is perfectly willing to be tied with a perky bow at the neck so long as you do not hamper its freedom with a belt.

A two-inch border of finely pleated self-material is the only trimming employed on both the coat and the frock, except for one of those novelty chain metal girdles which encircles the waistline of the latter at a point just above the hips. The frock is cut with a square neckline, and the two borders of pleating extend from here to the hem of the skirt, both in front and back, giving that effect of slowness which is so ardently desired by every young woman today.

If preferred, this same idea may be carried out in a skirt and coat costume which, with a daintily beaded or embroidered crepe de chine or Georgette blouse, will be equally smart for tea, afternoon dancing or matinee wear.

Indomitable Durant

It is said in automotive circles that W. C. Durant accomplishes what he plans; to him difficulties are so many spurs to greater effort, making one get on the faster.

He is the man who made the Buick. He conceived and organized General Motors, including Cadillac, Chevrolet, Oakland and Oldsmobile. Certainly a considerable monument to one man's tireless energy.

But now, when many men would be content to enjoy a well-earned vacation, he is up to the armpits in the business of launching the crowning effort of his career.

It's "just a real good car," Durant says. "If it's good enough for him to christen with his own name, it's good enough for us," said the trade, and in 141 working days after the announcement they contracted for $31,000,000 worth of Durant cars.

CHILDREN IN SPRING TIME

Mrs. C. Osborn, 7812 Hillside Rd., Cleveland, O., writes: "My granddaughter was troubled with a cough for nearly two years. She took Foley's Honey and Tar and her cough is now gone. It loosened the phlegm so she could raise it easily." Foley's Honey and Tar is just what children should have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles" and tight, wheezy breathing. Be sure to get Foley's. It checks croup and whooping cough, too. Sayre & Hemphill, adv.

BRINGING UP FATHER

"SOAP BOX" ORATOR ADVOCATES ELIMINATION OF PRISONS AND JAILING OF ALL PROSECUTORS

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson should be in the state penitentiary for six months. This was the startling statement made by Millard Price, Port Clinton, state secretary of the socialist party and that party's candidate for governor, during a "soap box" oration in front of the Court House, Monday.

Price discoursed on everything but in so many words, however. What he said was that every penitentiary should be eliminated, that that plan is a plank in his platform and that every prosecuting attorney should spend six months in the pen before being permitted to qualify for his position.

Prices discoursed on everything from Billy Sunday to oleomargarine. "Billy Sunday used to pitch baseball but now he throws bull," said Price. "Chris, rode into Jerusalem on a poor, thin jackass, but Sunday won't budge unless he's in a $10,000 automobile. He's coming to Dayton in October to save souls for profit. If he can save the souls of Deeds and Winters he'll be going home. If I'm elected Governor I'll have to make room in the penitentiary for Deeds. If I go to heaven before those two and they get to heaven I get out an injunction against them."

If elected Governor, Price agreed to work for $3,600 a year and his rent, work from eight in the morning until five in the evening, sell the penitentiary, establish a director of fish, make merchants mark the cost, and selling price of goods in plain figures, abandon the electric chair, replace the oral examination with the written examination in civil service and see that the best qualified man got the job offered, and government control of industries including the oil business.

Here's a sample of Price's logic: "If a hog is going to Chicago," he gets loaded in the car and when the conductor asks him for his ticket he tells him he's going to Chicago to visit his brother, Mr. Armour. They send him on to Chicago and his fare is not paid until he gets there. But if you want to go to Chicago to visit your brother, and you get on the train and tell them you'll pay when you get there, they'll put you off."

Price began talking at 7:30 o'clock and continued until after nine o'clock to a crowd of 30 or 40 people. At the end of his discourse he took up a collection. He claims to be a former Democrat, a former Tammany Hall member, a former benchman of the late Richard Croker, a former traveling representative of Swift & Co., and Armour & Co., and a former New York poultry merchant. He admits being a crook before he became a socialist but said he never was in jail, because he was a crook in that he only followed the usual business methods which "are all crooked."

During the course of his oratory, Price attacked President Harding, Richard Croker, Samuel Gompers, Billy Sunday, Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Harry L. Davis, former President Woodrow Wilson, Tammany Hall, all railroad presidents, John D. Rockefeller, whom he branded as a "national curiosity, making $60,000,000 a year and not able to make a living," all Democrats, all Republicans, William Hale Thompson and numerous lesser lights.

Price's discourse was interrupted by a man who came forward and asked Price to save souls for profit. If he can save the souls of Deeds and Winters he'll be going home. If I'm elected Governor I'll have to make room in the penitentiary for Deeds. If I go to heaven before those two and they get to heaven I get out an injunction against them."

FOUR DANCING FEET

BY JANE PHELPS

Gertie had a little calendar over her bureau and she studied it daily.

Three weeks of the month had gone—slipped away somehow quickly in spite of her longing to see Tom Norris. In a week the month would be up. She tried to calm her impatience by recalling he had said "in about a month" that might mean a little more than four weeks she counted on the calendar—might mean five, perhaps.

Would he be the same Tom—the same to her.

She asked herself this question many times daily. It hardly seemed reasonable that he would remember the cabaret girl to whom he had been so kind, all this while—the girl to whom he had opened a new life: had taught to long for better things, an education and refinement.

Feverishly she longed to show him she had improved that she had really tried. If she couldn't have new clothes, she did have a better place to receive him, a pretty little sitting room instead of the kitchen. Yet he hadn't seemed to mind, had been perfectly at ease with the family, sipping his tea and complimenting her mother upon her cooking. Sometimes she almost wished she never had met him; never known a young man so different from those of her neighborhood: those whom Lilly considered good enough for beaux. It had made them all seem so common, even George Murphy, who really was a nice fellow, holding a good position.

One day she caught Tim looking at her, his eyes bright.

"What is it, Tim?" she asked. "I was only thinking how pretty you are, Gertie. You're the prettiest girl I know even in your old clothes. I guess them new ones you planned to have before I got hurt went for me, didn't they?"

Gertie gave him a kiss before she answered. She had loved the little boy's frankness, his compliment.

"What if they have! A good leg is worth more than clothes, Timmie dear. When you get well you'll soon earn money again and I will have the clothes. If I don't have them I won't be wearing them out—like I would if I had them now."

"You're a brick, Gertie! I guess I know girls like new clothes. I hear Lilly talk and ennie too. I heard Jennie tell Ma you looked awful shabby, that Lilly said that it was a shame you couldn't have a new hat. Can't you manage just a hat? Don't get me any more playthings and fruit. They cost money."

"Now who's the brick? You just do as you are told, eat what we give you and get well and strong, and stop thinking about clothes! I have lovely things to dance in, and that's all that really counts. I don't go out much, not like Lilly."

"All right—But you just wait till I grow up and I'll fix you! Gee, but don't I wish I was a man right now! It takes awful long for a boy to grow up."

After this talk Gertie stopped even thinking of her shabbiness. Dear little Tim, willing to go without the fruit the doctor said he needed and the cheap toys that amused him when he was tired of lying still. He might have been killed, then what would any of them care for clothes?

Gertie's new dance had grown in popularity. She gave an encore every night and Fagin, in very good humor said: "Get up another whenever you feel like it, Miss Gertie. I'll stand for the clothes."

"I don't have much time to practice a home, my little brother broke his leg, and he needs a lot of attention. I try to help Ma care of him. But I'll be thinking about a sort of butterfly dance I have in mind, one I started to practice when he was hurt."

Gertie was developing into an artist, in a way. Fagin, the clever Irishman perceived it and willingly helped her—perhaps with an eye to his own aggrandizement, but it was help and encouragement just the same.

"That's a great idea—a butterfly with gorgeous wings, bright colors. It'll cost a lot for a costume, but as I told you I'll stand the gaff. And—" he fumbled in his pocket, took a roll of bills. "Here's $25. I guess you can use it if you've sickness in the family."

Gertie was so surprised, so touched by this unexpected generosity she could scarcely thank the man.

"There! There! Never mind the thanks. Run along and practice your butterfly dance."
